Croft Crags

Situation and character

Located on the banks of the river Soar the crags of Croft village are a perfect spot for an evening's bouldering. The problems are up to 5m in height and the grades range from V0 – V7. The rock type is granite. The landings are good.

Approach

It is best to park on Huncote Road outside the Heathcote Arms. You can approach the crag from two directions.

- 1. From behind the bus stop by the river on Station road there is a path. This takes you straight to the crags quickly and easily (as long as the stingers aren't too high).
- 2. Walk out of the village towards Huncote. After 100m take the footpath down the side of the church on the left side of the road. Follow this over the bridge and head back left towards the village.

Access

There are no known access issues here.
